TECH-FLO ALL SEASON BLEND contributes to higher yields, improves plant's potential for productivity, and prevents or corrects nutritional deficiencies.

Essential plant nutrients for optimal yields.

Tech-Flo® All Season Blend is one of our top-selling products, and for good reason. The balanced blend of 13 essential nutrients improves plants, crops, and yields.

Season after season, growers rely on results to increase their profits.

Results in the field.

This Coastal CA grower had given up on a block of tomatoes that was just not performing well. He hoped for better luck next year, but after consulting with his Nutrient Technologies Plant Nutritionist, he decided to give foliar a try.

Tech-Flo All Season Blend was applied twice to the block at a rate of 2 qts/acre combined with NAIAD soil treatment to aid in water penetration.

The results were fast and obvious. The treated block produced larger fruit with better color. The fresh market tomato grower was astonished, and will be applying Tech-Flo All Season to more acres next season.

Tech-Flo All Season Blend is recommended for use on most crops.

Ask your Nutrient Technologies Representative, PCA or dealer about recommendations for your crop. Nutrient Technologies is a proud partner with NAIAD.
